Dear Mr. Andrews:

I am responding to your letter of November 21 asking for information resulting from inquiries about Raoul Wallenberg.

The United States has inquired with the Soviet government about the fate of Raoul Wallenberg at several high level meetings. President Bush raised the issue during his August summit with Soviet President Gorbachev.

The Swedish government has indicated that the Soviet government is cooperating fully in the ongoing investigations. The joint Soviet-Swedish commission looking into the Wallenberg case has been granted access to a number of Soviet archives and officials who may have relevant information.

We hope that the ongoing inquiries will at last determine the fate of this heroic statesman who sacrificed everything to help others.

Sincerely,

Janet G. Mullins
Assistant Secretary
Legislative Affairs
